Practice Makes Catholic - Did you know?

In the Narthex on the left as you enter the front doors is a small wooden box. This box, along with the pews and our reconfigured stained glass pieces, were brought here from the original St John's.

The box contains the holy oils used by our Parish throughout the year. They are called chrism oils. On Holy Thursday morning the Archbishop joined by the priests of the Archdiocese, gather at the Cathedral to celebrate the chrism Mass. This Mass manifest the unity of the Archbishop and the priests of our Archdiocese. During this Mass the chrism oils are blessed and traditionally presented to an adult catechumens who brings them back to their Parish to be used during the year.

The oils are basically three forms. The first is the oil of catechumens used in Baptisms. The second is the oil of the infirm and is used during the anointing of the sick. The third holy chrism is used during the administration of other sacraments through the year at our Parish. These oils are also used for holy orders, confirmation and in the dedication of a new church.
